Comes now the United States of America by Ryan A. Keefe, Assistant United States Attorney for the Southern District of Ohio, and responds to Diajonte Banks' (hereafter "defendant") Motion for Bond. The government has conferred with the defendant's pretrial services officer who has reviewed the defendant's conduct during his brief time on supervision and recommends maintaining the previously imposed conditions of release, except to remove the no longer applicable requirement that the defendant comply with his state probation. The government does not object to the Motion as long as the previously imposed conditions of release are imposed.

Respectfully submitted,

KELLY A. NORRIS
Acting United States Attorney
